The Roulette-Watson Library Excellence Award

by Laura Goss, Executive Director

First presented in 2006, the Roulette Watson Award is the library's highest recognition. Named for Kib Roulette and Dick Watson, the Board of Trustees established this award in honor of the 2 men who are very much responsible for the continued success of the library system. The award is presented to individuals who have selflessly donated their time and efforts to the expansion of library service in Adams County, Pennsylvania. The Roulette Watson award is not presented annually, making it our most prestigious award.

I had the honor of presenting this award to the Friends of the Adams County Library on behalf of the Library Board of Trustees and the ACLS staff at our National Library Week Celebration on April 11. Kib Roulette attended especially to help present it and honor the Friends. We kept this a secret and were able to surprise Jim and Cathy Garner at the event. Our Friends President accepted the award which recognizes and congratulates all of the Friends of the Adams County Library members, past and present, who have worked tirelessly on behalf of the ACLS.

By happy coincidence, this is the 60th anniversary year of The Friends of the Adams County Library. Formed in 1959, the organizations goals were to maintain an association of people interested in library development; to focus attention on library service, its facilities and needs and to stimulate gifts to the library. Since their founding, the Friends have worked to raise funds for the mortgage, the furnishings, the programs and the general operations of the library.

If you look at a timeline, you can see that over the years the Friends have increased their efforts and their contributions. Since 2005, the Friends have made an annual donation of at least $60000 and, over their history, the Friends of the Adams County Library have raised and donated over a million dollars for the operation of the Adams County Library System.

Although this Friends group is headquartered in Gettysburg, their efforts have improved the Library System county-wide. If you are not a Friend, consider joining or volunteering, and please shop at their bookstore and at their summer book sale.

Again, thank you to all of our Friends for your continued support, we depend upon your efforts.

The FOL is always looking for new ways to make money for our library. At the end of last year, we began selling books on Amazon. The books we list for sale all come from the generous donations you make to the FOL via the garage. The books are picked by the garage sorting team and our president, Jim Gardner, scans them to see if they are appropriate for listing. We have been beyond pleased with the results so far. Remember, the books cost us nothing thanks to you and do not impact our inventory for the annual book sale. This is just another venue for us to make use of in this era of change.

Are you a member of the ACLFOL? It's the best bargain in town.
